Effects of Political Developments in the Middle East on India's oil Budget

1390. SHRI PRAMOD MAHAJAN: Will the Minister of PETROLEUM AND CHEMICALS be pleased to state:

(a) what are the effects of the recent political developments in Middle East on our 'Oil Budget'; and

(b) what steps Government are taking to meet this situation?

THE MINISTER OF PETROLEUM AND CHEMICALS (SHRI M. S. GURUPADASWAMY): (a) The recent developments in Middle East have resulted in disruption in supplies of crude oil and products from Iraq, Kuwait and USSR, and have led to increase in crude oil and Petroleum Product prices in the international market. This is expected to result in considerable increase in the import bill for crude and petroleum products.

(b) Efforts are under way to procure crude oil and petroleum products from alternative sources make up for the shortfall, within the constraints of foreign exchange availability.

Import of Petro-Chemicals from Middle-East

1392. SHRI KAHNU CHARAN LENKA: Will the Minister of PETROLEUM AND CHEMICALS be pleased to state:

(a) whether Government are considering a proposal to import petrochemical intermediates from the Middle-East and other countries;

(b) if so, what are the details thereof;

(c) whether Paradeep Port on the East-Coast is being considered for import of these materials and for creation of the required storage and associated facilities; and

(d) if so, by when the proposal would be implemented?

THE MINISTER OF PETROLEUM AND CHEMICALS (SHRI M. S. GURUPADASWAMY): (a) and (b) Import of petrochemicals intermediates takes place depending upon the gap between demand and supply in the country. Most of these items are directly imported by users from different countries depending upon their requirements and market conditions.

(c) and (d) The Government of Orissa had made a suggestion that Paradeep Port be developed for storage and handling of petrochemicals intermediates. Since this would require substantial investment, State Government have been advised to undertake detailed techno-economic feasibility study of any such proposal.
